Ice Skating

by Aidan

Ice skating is a beautiful sport that requires balance, artistry, and strength. South Korea has become world-renowned for its incredible success in this discipline. Despite not having a long history in winter sports, Korean athletes have shown amazing dedication and skill. They are now considered some of the best skaters globally. The most legendary figure is Kim Yuna, whose perfect technique and emotional performances won Olympic gold and captured hearts everywhere. Her success inspired a new generation of young skaters, often called "Yuna Kids." Today, South Korea continues to produce talented athletes who perform complex jumps and spins with grace, proving their country has truly come a powerhouse on the ice.

Sledding

by Aidan

Winter in South Korea is cold, but it is full of excitement. One of the best activities for students is snow sledding. Many families love visiting famous sledding slopes at popular places like Everland or Seoul Land. You can also find great snowy hills at ski resorts in Gangwon-do. Sitting on your plastic sled, you slide down the white track very fast. The cold wind rushes past your face, making the ride thrilling. It is fun to race against your friends to the bottom and cheer loudly as you reach the finish line together. Sledding is a wonderful way to enjoy the beautiful Korean winter outdoors while making happy memories with friends!

Christmas

by Aidan

South African Christmas braai

Christmas originally marked the birth of Jesus Christ, but it has evolved into a significant cultural event celebrated worldwide. In Western-influenced countries like South Africa, this holiday is a highly anticipated occasion dedicated to strengthening family bonds. While the Northern Hemisphere celebrates in the snow, South Africans enjoy a unique summer experience. Consequently, families often gather for a lively outdoor braai in the sunshine rather than staying indoors. Despite these climate differences, the atmosphere remains focused on gratitude and community. The tradition of exchanging gifts is valued as a gesture of generosity rather than simple materialism. Ultimately, Christmas is meaningful because it provides a necessary pause from daily life, allowing people to reconnect with relatives and spread goodwill. It is a time when friendship and kindness take center stage in everyone's lives. Merry Christmas everyone!

Christmas Eve Party

What do you do at Christmas? Christmas is a very important time in South Africa. It is a time for helping others. It is a time for family. We help people in need. On Christmas Eve, we have a big family party. I think Christmas in South Africa is like Chuseok in Korea. But one thing is very different. Christmas in South Africa is actually in summer!
